

Gabriele Franceschini

Executive Head of HR

Industrial & Energy Technology

Gabriele is currently Executive Head of HR for the IET Gas Services Business Unit and before lead HR in Global Supply Chain, New Units & Nuovo Pignone company.

In this role he is accountable for business and functional company objectives and responsible to coordinate the HR function globally focusing on Culture, Organization, Talent and DEI results.

Gabriele started his career in HR over 15 years ago, working for luxury and textile industries.

He joined GE Oil & Gas in 2004 successfully contributing as HR professional in global organizations - Manufacturing, Engineering, Product Leadership, Commercial, Services and Project Management.

Primarily based in Florence (Italy) graduated in Economics at the University of Florence, with a specialization in Organizational Behavior obtained at Ryerson University (Toronto, Canada). Held global HR roles in Italy, France and South America.

Highly determined on achieving success through cultural change, leadership development, organizational optimization and diversity of thoughts.

Love to run, playing volleyball, having great food and red wine. Fluently speaks Italian, English and Spanish. Married with 2 children also enjoy spending time with them and friends.